Urges Conservation
An urgent plea to bankers "to do everything in their power to aid conservation of our resources and to keep our rural institutions what they ought to be" was made by Dr. John Baxter Howes, professor of rural church, Westminster Theological Seminary, Westminster, Md.

"If we are to keep feeding our rapidly expanding population, and if we are to keep our commitments to the rest of the world, we must watch our resources carefully. We are the most wasteful people in the world and we can no longer afford to waste what will be so necessary to us in the future."

"You bankers must be in the forefront of conservation. It takes a very long time to put back an inch of topsoil. Yet the economy of (Continued on Page 16)

W. VA. FRUITMAN CALLED IN FAIR TRADE HEARINGS

Henry W. Miller, Paw Paw, W. Va., apple grower, was called to testify today at a trade commission hearing in Washington on price fixing charges in the Appalachian apple industry, the Associated Press reported.

Miller is a director of Appalachian Apple Service, Inc., Martinsburg, W. Va., which along with five processing companies is charged with unfair competition.

Miller followed Carroll R. Miller (no relation), secretary-manager of Appalachian, who occupied the witness stand all day yesterday.

Carroll Miller was questioned in detail about a meeting of a group described as "The Joint Grower-Processor Committee" in Hagerstown, Md., in October, 1950.

Denies Knowledge
He said "not to my knowledge" when asked if the meeting resulted in any diversion of apple shipments from Virginia, "where the National Fruit Product Co., had an over-abundance," into Pennsylvania.

National Fruit of Winchester, Va., is one of the five companies charged by the government with unfair competition. The charges include price fixing and diverting raw apple shipments to avoid price breaks.

The other companies are the C. H. Musselman Co., Biglerville, Pa.; Knouse Foods Cooperative, Inc., Peach Glen, Pa.; Bowman Apple Products Co., Inc., Mt. Jackson, Va., and Shenandoah Valley Apple Cider & Vinegar Corp., Winchester, Va.

The government has contended that the joint committee has played a part in the alleged price fixing. Miller, on cross examination, said he never knew at the conclusion of such meetings what raw apple prices would be.

"I never at any time knew what a processor would pay for that meeting," he said.

ALUMNI GROUP OKAYS "ALMA MATER" FOR HS

The Gettysburg High School Alumni Council auditioned a new song which they later recommended for adoption as the Gettysburg High School Alma Mater, made plans for a joint student-alumni holiday dance at Christmas time and received President Eugene R. Hartman's appointments of special standing committees for the current school year at the November meeting of the council Wednesday evening at the YWCA.

The Council members expressed themselves as well pleased with the song presented to them by a group of six high school students and Paul Grove, vocal music instructor in the public schools. The music was composed by Mr. Grove and he and Mrs. Grove collaborated on the words.

Miss Kay Coleman, a high school student council member, told the alumni that the student body of the junior-senior high school has endorsed the song by an overwhelming majority in home room polls conducted after the high school choir sang the new number at student assemblies.

OK Dance Proposal
The alumni directed Secretary Oma Furney to write letters of commendation and appreciation to Mr. Grove and Miss Coleman for their services in creating the Alma Mater. The alumni had offered prizes early this year to a new song to be used as the alma mater in connection with the association's 50th anniversary.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Everest mystery—have the Swiss climbers conquered it or not?—was still unsolved today. In fact the mystery deepened.

Some earlier reports had said the climbers failed by 50 yards. But today a Swiss legation spokesman reminded that the expedition had no radio communication equipment and no word has come from them.

"Runners are the only means of bringing out word and that means a 10 to 15 day trip," he said. "So far we have received no word."

The climbers planned to make their final assault on the world's highest peak last Saturday.

The jury hearing the action in trespass brought by Nick Frederick, administrator of the estate of Clara Candemlo, Carl Noce, Isabelle Noce and Carl Noce Jr., all of Alliquippa, against Margaret V. This morning the jurors heard three attorneys sum up their cases and then heard a lengthy charge by Judge W. C. Sheely.

LAUDS COUNTY CRIPPLED KIDS' GROUP ON SEALS

The Adams County Crippled Children's Society set an example for the rest of the state by keeping its seal sale campaign expenses to 8.3 per cent of total receipts. Robert Royer, public relations director for the state Crippled Children's Society, told members of the board of directors of the county society at their November meeting Wednesday.

Mr. Royer said the record for last year is to be compared with the 31.1 per cent for the 1951 drive and figures of 40 per cent or more reported by some societies in the state.

Used Volunteer Help
Dr. Clarence E. Bartholomew, president of the society, said the campaign cost was kept low by reducing the mailing list to about 3,000 and making use of volunteer help in folding, stuffing and addressing the letters. Members of the board did much of the work, he said.

The seal sale this year netted the county society $1,518.74, a gain of $314 over 1951. Total receipts were $2,069 and the state society received $379 and the national society $171.

Mr. Royer suggested a larger (Continued on Page 16)

MILES KEIFFER HEADS LINCOLN FELLOWSHIP

Miles H. Keiffer, Manheim electrical engineer, was elected president of the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania Wednesday afternoon at the annual meeting of the organization held at the Hotel Gettysburg. He succeeds Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the local national park.

C. H. Martin, Lancaster, was elected vice president. John D. Lippy, Jr., Seminary Ave. was re-elected secretary.

The controversial picture of a train and a group of people, one of whom is believed by some to be Abraham Lincoln at Hanover Junction, Pa., and unearthed by the National Archives, Washington, was discussed by the group. Members of the Fellowship were shown enlargements of the picture. "All logic is on the side of it being President Lincoln," said Henry Luhrs, Shippensburg, past president of the Fellowship.

Is Brady Picture

John D. Lippy Jr. reported that the Pinkerton Detective Agency has notified the Western Maryland railway that one of the men in the picture is Allen Pinkerton, who accompanied Lincoln here. Lippy said other pictures of Pinkerton show a remarkable likeness between the man listed as Pinkerton on the picture and authenticated photographs of the founder of the famous detective agency.

SAYS CHILDREN ARE NOT UNLIKE THEIR PARENTS

"Six-year-old children often are no worse than their parents," Dr. David C. Pewterbaugh, York pediatrician, told members of the Arentsville grade school Parent-Teachers Association at a meeting in the Arentsville grade school building Wednesday night. "They are at an age when they are breaking away from home ties, going to school, with many new things to learn and adjustments to make," he said. "Sometimes we expect them to behave better than a normal child, full of vim and vigor, ordinarily would behave."

Dr. Pewterbaugh spoke to the Arentsville PTA last spring on the child from birth to six years of age. Wednesday night he continued his discussion of children with observations on those from six to 12 years of age, taking each group by year, and discussing behavior habits.

See Change At 8

Seven-year-olds, he said, differed little from the six-year-olds, but at age eight children begin to attain a sense of responsibility, and seek to do more for themselves and think more for themselves. At nine years, children begin to show the variations between boys and girls in their development and thinking. Girls, he said, develop faster than boys.

Edward Staub, Biglerville R. D., new president of the PTA, presided. Rev. Nevin R. Frantz was in charge of the devotions. More than 100 parents attended the (Please Turn to Page 2)

The exercises were transferred from the cemetery because of inclement weather.

LINCOLN RITES ON WEDNESDAY IN CYCLORAMA

"This can remain a great nation, we can retain government of the people, by the people and for the people only if we keep our faith unqualified, only so long as we believe that God has a destiny for us, only so long as we keep our faith in God," Dr. Byron K. Horne, president of Linden Hall College, Littitz, declared Wednesday afternoon at the annual November 19 exercises commemorating the dedication of the Gettysburg National Cemetery.

Dr. Horne spoke in the Cyclorama, where the major portion of the program was held. The rain, starting to fall at 2:30 o'clock caused cancellation of the scheduled parade. The Manheim Twp. band, the speaker and others traveled to the National Cemetery by car and bus.

There Henry Luhrs, Shippensburg, past president of the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania, placed a wreath for the fellowship on the National Monument marking the site where Lincoln spoke. At the same time Harry Gilbert, a son of a Civil War soldier, placed a wreath for the Gettysburg Camp No. 112 of the Sons of Union Veterans on the grave of an unknown soldier.

Place Wreaths

When the wreaths were placed 2 Sons of Union Veterans firing squad under command of David Tawney fired three volleys over the graves and Bugler Edward Hughes sounded taps.

The group then moved to the Cyclorama where Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Gettysburg National Park and president of the Lincoln Fellowship, served as master of ceremonies. Rev. Martin H. Knutsen, vicar of the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church here, gave the invocation. Two numbers were played by the Manheim Twp. Band. Dr. Joseph H. Riley read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Harold V. March, pastor of the Memorial EUB Church, here.

"November 19, 1863 (the date Lincoln dedicated the National Cemetery here) was a critical day in a critical period," Dr. Horne (Please Turn to Page 2)

Rockets, Bombs Blast Chinese On Kumhwa Ridge In Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Allied forces pounded Chinese position late today with the heaviest rocket barrage and warplane strike in the 37-day-old battle for the vital Kumhwa ridges on the Central Korean Front.

In the air, U. S. Sabre jets destroyed five Communist MIG-15s. The Fifth Air Force jet fighters destroyed since the war began—exclusive of those downed by Navy pilots.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported from the Central Front that a total of 576 rockets were launched within a few seconds at Communist targets north of Allied-held Sniper Ridge.

The dusk rocket barrage came after an intensive fighter-bomber strike against Chinese positions along a narrow, two-mile sector. Chinese Attack

Randolph's dispatch on the rocket launching was timed at 9 p. m. (7 a. m., EST). An hour later he filed a report that two Chinese infantry companies attacked South Koreans dug in on Sniper Ridge. His censured dispatch indicated the attack was continuing.

"Whether tonight's action was just another probe or a heavy attack remained to be seen," he reported.

The Sabres were shielding Thunderbolt fighter-bombers which smashed a huge troop concentration center and possible rocket launching site northeast of Chongju, about 50 miles south of the Manchurian air base at Antung.

Another Parked Car Is Hit-Run Victim

The third parked car in three nights was sideswiped by a hit-run driver in Gettysburg this morning.

Police, who are continuing their investigation of all three cases, were beginning to feel that there might be something more than coincidence in the accidents.

The car struck this morning was owned by William Weikert, Gettysburg R. 4 and was parked on Chambersburg St. It was struck by a car at about 4 o'clock, with the hit-run driver driving into an alley after the crash. Damage to Weikert's car totalled $30.

LINCOLN RITES

told the group, "A bloody conflict was in progress, a conflict to determine whether this nation would continue half slave and half free."

Another Critical Time

"Abraham Lincoln was called under God to lead the nation through that time. And here he spoke in words eloquent and simple, brief and sincere, the creed that had made America great and was to make it greater."

"We stand again today in a critical time, not only in the history of the nation, but of the world. There are those who work under the theory that they can divide and conquer. These forces of infiltration which seek to divide us are powerful forces who can succeed if we are not watchful."

"As in 1863 our survival as a nation depends on unity, and unity depends on our freedom to accept the fact that freedom and liberty are the right of every citizen. If there is to be unity there can be no room for prejudice, class distinctions, or bias as to color or creed."

Communism Great Threat

"Communism is our great threat, and it cannot be outlawed — it must be outlived. We must have unity to outlive communism."

"I have spoken much of unity — but over all, above unity and as a basis for unity must be a deep and devout faith in God on the part of all of us. Lincoln believed, obeyed and worshipped God."

"We today are in a tragically unfortunate position if we are the inheritors of the fruits of that faith in God which was a part of the life of those men of the past, and have lost the faith that sustained them."

"This nation was established by people who loved, obeyed, feared and worshipped God. No wonder they built such a great nation. Yet we today seem unwilling to pay the price of belief in God."

South Penn Defers Action On Proposed Loop Changes Until December 3 Meeting

At a special meeting of the Southern Pennsylvania Conference Wednesday evening in the Carlisle High School cafeteria, action on the proposed change of the conference setup was deferred until the regular meeting Wednesday, December 3, at the Howard Johnson restaurant, near Mechanicsburg.

The special session was the result of a meeting of Shippensburg and Waynesboro officials several weeks ago to discuss their athletic problems. Both schools have been perennial tail-enders in the conference for years and are seeking remedies to their problems. Attending that meeting were representatives of Biglerville and Scotland who are reported interested in joining the South Penn loop.

One proposal had been that the conference be enlarged to a Class A and Class B organization for larger and smaller schools respectively. Another had been that if the circuit was not enlarged Waynesboro and Shippensburg might withdraw to form another loop with other schools.

Burkhart Issues Statement
Mark Burkhart, Carlisle, president of the conference, issued the following statement today on Wednesday's meeting which was closed to the press: "The conference discussed the matter thoroughly from all angles but arrived at no decision. The matter was deferred and placed on the agenda for the regular meeting on December 3."

Previous to the conference meeting a committee composed of Paul Shull, Waynesboro, chairman; James Gibboney, Shippensburg principal; Arthur M. Gordon, Biglerville faculty manager; Maurice Heckler, assistant superintendent at Scotland; Paul Rickenbach, Shippensburg coach, and Steve Suhey, Waynesboro coach, met at Shippensburg to draft the proposals. Gibboney, Rickenbach and Suhey later attended the meeting at Carlisle, other school representatives being barred.

At present the eight-school conference requires that each team plays every other team to be eligible for the championship.

Charter Members
Shippensburg is a charter member of the organization, having joined with Carlisle, Chambersburg, Gettysburg, Mechanicsburg and New Cumberland in forming the circuit in 1928. New Cumberland withdrew in 1931. Hanover was admitted in 1933. Hershey in 1936 and Waynesboro in 1937.

All schools were represented at the Carlisle meeting at which Burkhart presided. Attending from Gettysburg were George Purney, Howard Shoemaker, Ross Sachs, Gulle W. Lefever, Fred Troxell, Paul Mehring and Luther I. Sachs.

SAN BRUNO, Calif.—Willie Shoemaker rode his 300th winner of the year at Tanforan to join Johnny Longden and Walter Miller as the only jockeys in American history to have reached that mark twice. Phil's Abbey ($7,000) won the feature race with Shoemaker aboard.

Athletics Scout Didn't Find Shantz; Signing Was "Lucky"

NEW YORK—Bobby Shantz, American League's most valuable player of 1952, was not "discovered" by a Philadelphia scout as generally supposed, but came to the Athletics by sheer accident.

The 5-foot, 6½-inch lefthander, who won 24 and lost only seven last season, was tipped to the A's by Eddie Gottlieb, current owner and coach of the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association. Gottlieb was promoting Negro baseball at the time.

"It was back in 1947," Gottlieb explained, "and I owned the Philadelphia Stars of the Negro American League. We were scheduled to play against a team called the Tacony Club. Its star pitcher was a big, strapping righthander named Walter Nolt, who at one time pitched for the Brooklyn Dodgers. "Nolt had been banned by the then Commissioner Happy Chandler for jumping to the Mexican League and Branch Rickey, head of the Dodgers, warned me about letting my team play against him. I couldn't attend the game but gave explicit instructions to my manager, Goose Curry, not to play if Nolt pitched. "Second String Pitcher" "After the game Goose phoned

SCRIBE PICKS UCLA TO BEAT SOUTHERN CAL.

By HAROLD CLAASEN
NEW YORK—There were 21 fumbles in the recent Purdue-Notre Dame game, there were 19 in the Notre Dame-Oklahoma contest, and there were almost as many in the Notre Dame-Michigan State game. But there were only 12 fumbles in last week's selections.

Thirty-nine picks were correct for an average of .765. See here some of this week's selections. UCLA over Southern California: Paul Cameron is healthy and just now coming into his own at a time when the two Coast powers meet for the conference title and the Rose Bowl bid. Even the TV moguls knew this because back in August they picked this one as your home entertainment for Saturday afternoon.

Picks Georgia Tech
Michigan State over Marquette: By a considerable edge.

Georgia Tech over Florida State: If this were a fight it would be ruled "no contest." Oklahoma over Nebraska: Bobby Reynolds has re-joined his Nebraska mates but it is doubtful if that is enough. The Sooners haven't lost a Big Seven Conference game since the baseball Yankees lost a World Series.

Maryland over Oklahoma
Tennessee over Kentucky: The question isn't can Kentucky win? Instead, it is can Kentucky score? Maryland over Alabama: Alabama to feel the full fury of Maryland's anger over the upset loss to Mississippi last Saturday.

Notre Dame over Iowa: The last two meetings of these two rivals ended in ties and don't be surprised if this one doesn't also.

Tulsa over Arkansas: After a hesitant start, Tulsa now is the free-wheeling outfit that September seers predicted.

Ohio State and Duke
Ohio State over Michigan: There is just a flicker of unrest among the Ohio State alumni. A victory over Michigan would halt it. It will be stomped out.

Wisconsin over Minnesota: They have taken the snaffles off Alan (The Horse) Ameche.

Duke over North Carolina: This could be the straw that would topple Coach Carl Snavely out of his uneasy seat at North Carolina.

Other Selections
Finishing the others in a hurry: Friday night

Utah State over Denver, George Washington over Richmond, Saturday

East: Columbia over Brown, Villanova over Boston University, Bucknell over Delaware, Princeton over Dartmouth, Rutgers over New York University, Pittsburgh over Penn State, Syracuse over Fordham, Holy Cross over Temple, Yale over Harvard.

List Of Favorites
Midwest: Purdue over Indiana, Iowa State over Kansas State, Kansas over Missouri, Illinois over Northwestern, Oklahoma A & M over Washington State.

South: Auburn over Clemson, The Citadel over Davidson, Miami over Florida, LSU over Mississippi Southern, William & Mary over North Carolina State, Wake Forest over Furman, Virginia over Washington & Lee, South Carolina over West Virginia.

Southwest: Southern Methodist over Baylor, Texas Tech over Arizona, Rice over Texas Christian.

Far West: Colorado A & M over Brigham Young, New Mexico over Montana, California over Stanford.

Gator Bowl Counts On Florida Triumph

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—The Gator Bowl, which needs a team with drawing power to sell all its 37,000 seats, will be in a spot if Florida doesn't beat Miami Saturday.

Florida is counted on pretty heavily as one team for the New Year's Day game.

That became more apparent than ever last night when the Gator Bowl dropped Virginia from the list of teams being considered.

It brought the list down to Florida, Tulsa, Houston, Villanova and Syracuse. Only Florida in that group could attract the kind of following necessary for a sellout.

YORK FAVORED OVER LANCASTER IN TITLE GAME

HARRISBURG—Three games to decide 1952 schoolboy grid championships plus two others which will go a long way towards choosing two more titlists are on this week end's thin football card.

Many of the state's eastern and central eleven are resting up for traditional Thanksgiving Day fixtures. Most western schools, which begin earlier, have completed their schedules.

In the game of the day York's Bearcats entertain Lancaster, seeking their ninth win in 10 outings and the first Central Penn Conference title in the school's history.

The Yorkers currently hold a slim margin over Lancaster with a 5-1 conference record. Lancaster has won four, lost one and been tied once. A tie or triumph Saturday gives the title to the Bearcats while a Lancaster victory gives the title to the Roses.

Lost To Reading
York's one loss was to Reading in a close game while Lancaster's overall record is 6-2-1. In a game that promises to be a thriller—and one that is perfect for an upset—York is favored to finish out its best season on record and at the same time end a race that has seen-sawed up and down since the opening gun.

Reading, Lebanon and defending champion Williamsport all looked like winners at one time or another but in the last month it has been a two-way battle between York and Lancaster.

The other titles to be decided are in the Pittsburgh area WPIAL where a new champion will be crowned in the Class A division and Carmichaels and Wilmerding meet for Class B honors.

Midland, winner of 11 in the last 12, gets the nod over German Township, 7-1, in the Class A battle. Both have defeated the dethroned titlist, New Brighton, Carmichaels, which compiled the only WPIAL unbeaten, untied record outside the double A ranks, with 10 straight, should slip past defending champion Wilmerding, owner of an 8-1 log.

Canadians Capture Jumping Event

TORONTO—Canada again won the international jumping competition at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair last night. The win also gave Canada first place in a three-event low score competition.

The United States was second in last night's event but finished fifth on the three-night competition. France was third and took second on the overall contest, while Mexico took third by finishing fifth last night. Ireland was fourth and also wound up in fourth place on total points.

The Federation Equestre Internationale Stake was won by Oregon Duke, owned by Harry Ryan of Unionville, Pa.

SALA TO MEET OLSON TONIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO—Larruping Lee Sala, a converted southpaw who has stopped 48 of 74 opponents, pits his punching power against superior boxer Carl (Bobo) Olson here tonight in a 10-rounder bringing together two of the top ranking middleweights of the country.

Important stakes rest on the outcome. Olson, from Honolulu, is rated No. 1 contender in New York for the title held by presently inactive Sugar Ray Robinson. The clever ringman from the Islands, a fair hitter in his own right, lost a close 15-round decision to Robinson in their title match here last March.

Sala, a left hook specialist from Donora, Pa., strengthened his challenger's claim considerably a few weeks ago when he gave another topnotcher, Norman Hayes, a bad beating. Sala's impressive record lists only four defeats.

Odds makers have established Olson as a slight favorite. The fight will not be televised. It will start about 10 p. m. (PST) (1 a. m. EST). Gate receipts may reach $30,000.

The winner figures to be close in line for a shot at Robinson's crown. There is some talk that Sugar Ray, who made his debut recently as a night club solo dancer, may hang up the gloves. In such an event, both Olson and Sala expect to be in the scramble for the vacated title. A decisive win for either tonight undoubtedly will establish the foremost contender.

PITTSBURGH—Charles Muse, 35, will return to his old post as a Pittsburgh Pirate baseball scout next season. He was signed yesterday after his discharge from the Army.

BELL HELPS TO SHUT OUT BEARS

Gordon (Tinkle) Bell once again is being hailed as one of the best goalies in the American Hockey League.

Bell, who has made most of the stops along the minor hockey league byways, is one of the principal reasons that the Syracuse Warriors are in the running for the title.

The Warriors got off to a poor start but Bell got hot and the Warriors have won five of their last six games to pull to within four points of Cleveland's front-running Barons.

Bell turned in his second straight shutout last night as the Warriors defeated the Hershey Bears, 5-0. In the only other game the Pittsburgh Hornets edged the Buffalo Bisons, 4-3.

The Hornets piled up a 4-1 lead over Buffalo and weathered a two goal last period Bison barrage to win.

Soccer Team Drops Final To Temple

The Gettysburg College soccer team closed its season here Wednesday afternoon by dropping a 5-3 decision to Temple University in a driving rain.

After George Heacock put the Bullets ahead with a goal in the first period, Temple took a lead it never relinquished on a pair of goals by Dunn in the second frame.

The Bullets copped three victories, lost five and tied another in the nine-game schedule.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Democrats Escort G.O.P. Friends
On Salt River Parade: A "grand" farewell procession took place on the main streets of Gettysburg Friday evening, and it was the largest and most colorful parade held in Gettysburg in many a year. It was the 1932 "Salt river excursion" of the Democrats of Adams county, celebrating the Roosevelt landslide in the recent election.

On a huge truck with the inscription "S. S. Hoover," the reigning Democrats led the procession. They were decked in their Sunday-best, with high silk toppers. Roy P. Funkhouser and James C. Cole were the "major domos" and with them were the Democratic stalwarts.

G. R. Thompson, chairman of the Republican county committee, was the guest of honor. He rode in the main float with his Democratic friends and gleefully waved to his Republican friends. . . .

The Boys' band, Citizens' band, Paradise Protectorate Boys' band, Littlestown Boys' band, the Arentzville Vocational school band, a colored orchestra and other musical organizations played martial selections. . . .

Clerk Marries County Couple: William H. Thompson, Straban township, were married by Clayton F. Palmer, clerk of the county courts, Saturday afternoon, after he issued the couple a license. . . .

88 Person At Sons Of Vets' Banquet Here: Eighty-eight guests were present at the second annual banquet of the Past Commanders and Past Presidents' association of the Sons of Union Veterans, in the Hotel Gettysburg, Saturday night, commemorating the dedication of the Gettysburg National cemetery by Abraham Lincoln, November 19, 1863.

Staff Sergeant Edward F. Strausbaugh, chairman of the committee on arrangements, introduced the toastmaster, Captain C. F. Aument, of Lancaster. . . .

Gas Rates Are Reduced Here: Consumers of gas in Gettysburg on Monday morning welcomed a second reduction in gas rates. The public service commission approved a new schedule effective at once for the Gettysburg district. . . .

H. H. Miller, manager of the Gettysburg Gas company, said the new reduction, which is in effect now, is the lowest rate ever put into effect and will materially benefit all consumers. He said the new rate will serve as an added inducement to consumers to heat their homes with gas. "This rate will make gas heating so cheap as to attract many consumers to this form of heating," Mr. Miller said. . . .

Couple Weds Sunday: Miss Evelyn G. Kemper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Goodermuth, and Raymond C. Herman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Herman, New Oxford, were married by the Rev. C. J. Grot, pastor of the York Springs Methodist Episcopal church, at the parsonage, last Sunday. . . .

8 Veterans Are Guests Of G.A.R. Ladies: Eight Civil War veterans, whose ages averaged 88 years, attended the annual dinner given them by Gettysburg circle, 138 Ladies of the G.A.R., at the Corporal Stelly G.A.R. post room at noon Thursday. . . .

Seventy-five persons, including Civil War veterans, their wives and widows, members of the circle and guests were in attendance. . . .

The veterans present at the dinner included Captain Calvin Gilbert, 93; Samuel Walters, 90; John W. Fidler, 89; Henry Hartzell, 88; James Bishop, 88; Joseph H. Riggs, 87; Hanson W. Lightner, 85; and John Newhafer, 82. Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Hartzell accompanied their husbands to the dinner. . . .

Three widows of Civil War veterans were present. They were Mrs. Evelyn Holtzworth, Mrs. Margaret McCartney and Mrs. Agnes Sterner. . . .

The committee in charge of the affair comprised Mrs. S. Elizabeth Redding, president of the circle; Mrs. O. C. Walters, Mrs. Helen Swisher, Mrs. Edna Jacobs, Mrs. Emma Anzengruber, Mrs. Mary

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
INWARD PEACE

We are manufacturers of our own peace of mind. Others may contribute, but we alone so shape our thoughts and actions as to formulate a way of life that gives to us that inward peace so essential to a happy and successful life.

Sir William Osler gave us a suggestion for "living in day-tight compartments." He would have each one of us eliminate the past and the future and live for the day, attending to the work at hand, gaining inward peace from that alone.

We have the words of Christ, the greatest spiritual philosopher who ever lived. He said: "Take no thought for the morrow." If we wish peace of mind we must create it within ourselves. We must be our own man, as Henley has said—the master of our own fate. We are our own architect. Seneca said that "one should count each day a separate life."

The greatest obstruction to inward peace is worry. Mostly worries over things that never do happen! I have gained great comfort from an almost daily reminder of a line I once read as hanging over the bed of the great Gladstone. It was this: Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee.

From the Transcript I quote this line: "Today we'll live makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and tomorrow a vision of hope." Unhappy people complain about life as having no meaning. For such people it has none for none is contributed. We get plenty if we give plenty. That is a truthful law of life.

If we borrow no trouble we will have none to pay back! Every investment in inward peace earns increasing dividends of comfort, and increased faith. Inward peace has a wonderful healing element to it. It is a harbinger of hope, and it radiates itself in the form of influence. People who have gained it emphasize the triumphant life!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Some Day"

Just Folks

THE TOOTHLESS CLASS

Were I a teacher I should ask
The kindergarten for my task;
With little children in a row
With dimpled cheeks and eyes aglow,
Who dance and sing and romp about
And every one with some teeth out.

I think it would be fun to see
Those spaces blank where teeth should be,
And hear some happy youngster shout,
"Teacher, I've pulled another out!"
Then show 'twixt finger and the thumb
The tooth just wriggled from the gum.

I hold the brightest smiles of all
Are those of toothless children small.
The happiest age I would define
As that without distinctions fine,
When boy or girl, brown-eyed or blue,
Of early teeth has lost a few.

The line dividing fair from plain
As yet has made no youngster vain.
Where'er the teacher looks about
Are smiles displaying front teeth out.
Oh, much too soon the time will pass
When they will join less fair a class.

MORSE SAYS IKE WON'T SETTLE WAR IN KOREA

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, commenting on President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's proposed inspection trip to Korea, says, "You're not going to settle that Korean War in Korea."

Morse, who bolted the Republican party and withdrew his support from Eisenhower in the November election, made that comment in a speech last night to a Pittsburgh Israel bond drive dinner. He added:

"You're not going to perform any miracles by any visitation of anyone to Korea. You're going to settle the Korean War in the United Nations—nowhere else. And you're going to do it by negotiating, not with Soviet Russia, but with your allies, for unity."

U. S. Losing Friends

Morse said a "military state of mind in this country has gone too far in the thinking that a third world war is inevitable." He declared:

"If you let the military group go unchecked, World War III will become inevitable."

The Oregon senator said America is losing friends because there's a "growing wave of economic isolation sweeping the country."

During the next few weeks, Morse said, he intends to "document sources of some of the war danger in high places."

TRUCKERS MOVE TO STOP MISHAPS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association today called a special safety conference next Tuesday to discuss ways of reducing truck accidents on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

O. D. Shipley, PHTA safety director, said the meeting will be attended by turnpike truck users as well as safety directors of insurance companies and allied industries from several Eastern states.

Heading the list of topics will be the formation of a stronger road patrol program for trucks on the toll road.

Shipley emphasized, however, that while closer observation of trucks on the turnpike will help improve safety habits of truckers, it will not necessarily aid passenger car drivers.

"That task is primarily a matter of safe driving education which must be carried on in the schools, in the newspapers and by all civic groups," Shipley added.

Predicts Severe Shortage Of Nurses

HARRISBURG (AP)—A shortage of trained nurses in Pennsylvania hospitals will get worse before it gets better, the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association advised today. "Hospitals around the state could use 9,000 nurses more than they now have on their staffs," said Mrs. Katharine Miller, the association's executive secretary.

The continued expansion and enlarging of hospitals everywhere soon will leave a shortage of 10,000 nurses, she told a newsman. At present there are about 5,500 women in approved nursing schools around the state, Mrs. Miller said. About one-third of this number is graduated every year.

"At this rate it would take years for our schools to fill the shortage—even if all the graduates continued to practice their profession," she said.

Strike Disorder At Chambersburg

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Sheriff James W. Coldsmith has assigned a half dozen deputies to the strike-bound L. B. Smith Ordnance Plant as a result of a disorder last night.

Chief of Police H. S. Byers said he asked the sheriff for help in maintaining order after a scuffle between union pickets and a group of night shift workers who tried to enter the plant. One man suffered bruised ribs in the scuffle. Six borough policemen are on duty near the plant.

Operations were suspended yesterday at the plant, employing 800 production workers, by the strike of union workers in an effort to obtain a wage contract.

Food Stores Must Display OPS Signs

HARRISBURG (AP)—All food stores in the Harrisburg, Lebanon, Lancaster and York areas must display OPS community food pricing lists beginning Monday.

The pricing lists are worked out by the Office of Price Stabilization in cooperation with representatives of the food trade in each trading area.

Already covered by the community pricing system are the Philadelphia and Southern New Jersey areas, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Wilkes Barre, Reading, Allentown and Easton areas and all of the state of Delaware.

Dr. James F. Bogardus, regional OPS chief, said the system will be extended over all of Pennsylvania by Dec. 1.

Mrs. Grace Baker and Mrs. Pauline Seabrook visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stambaugh, Taneytown.

NAME GROUP TO FIX TV COURSE ON TELEVISION

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—An 18-member committee was set up today to chart a course for the use of television as an educational medium in Pennsylvania.

Gov. John S. Fine named the committee to study educational phases of television and to take any action necessary to insure that four TV channels reserved for educational use in the state are utilized for that purpose.

The governor, in an address last night announcing the committee, said the four allocated channels would bring educational programs only to 50 to 60 per cent of the state's population.

"We need at least three more reservations in this state," Fine told a meeting of a joint committee on educational television, adding that "television as a means of education is the great contemporary challenge to educators."

"If television is what it now seems to be," the governor said, "educators and all of us would be guilty of gross neglect of public trust if we fail to take appropriate action to develop this instrument for educational and cultural purposes."

The makeup of the committee includes Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction and heads of the state's major colleges and universities, Milton S. Eisenhower, Penn. State; Harold Stassen, University of Pennsylvania; Rufus H. Fitzgerald, Univer-1862.

city of Pittsburgh; and Robert Johnson, Temple.

Others included presidents and representatives of various state educational associations and chairman of the House and Senate education committees.

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Col. Frank K. Hyatt has retired as president of Pennsylvania Military College. Col. Hyatt was honored with a full-dress military review.

Hyatt, who is 67 years old, is the last of a line of Hyatt presidents that began at the school in 1862.

CAPEHART SAYS CONGRESS SURE TO OK CONTROLS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) says he is certain the new Republican Congress will approve some form of price, wage and rent controls whether or not President-elect Eisenhower favors them.

Capehart, scheduled to become chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which handles controls legislation, brought this out yesterday shortly after a hearing at which Price Stabilizer Tighe Woods urged that controls be extended.

The law authorizing controls will expire April 30 unless extended, and there has been talk in Congress of refusing to extend it.

Sure Of Approval
Capehart told a reporter he was certain his committee would approve and Congress would pass some form of standby controls in the next session, whatever it decides about the present curbs.

Asked if he thought Eisenhower would want such standby authority, the Indiana senator said he did not know but that "we've got the votes for it whether he does or not."

"We can't afford to be without standby controls as long as the Korean War is on," Capehart asserted. "I think it might be a good idea to have them in any case."

To Knock Ceilings Off
Woods, meanwhile, is preparing to knock retail price ceilings off virtually all items of clothing, except possibly children's and infants' wear, by Dec. 1.

He announced his decision to senators yesterday after he had ordered the suspension of price controls on women's street and dress millinery and on bottled soft drinks.

Woods told the Senate-House Defense Production Committee, before which he appeared as a witness, that he is determined to order a rollback of the retail price of beef if this is legally possible.

Woods' Position
Woods, in more than three hours of testimony before the committee which keeps an eye on inflation control and defense production problems, strongly urged Congress not to abandon price stabilization.

The committee listened intently to his estimate that (1) some 200 price-controlled items consumed in industry would undergo "immediate" price rise if controls are ended, and (2) that a bulge of only 3 per cent in their price levels "would burden the budget with almost two billion dollars" additional cost of the defense program.

He predicted another result would be rounds of wage increases and price increases in items which have never been controlled.

To Bless Cemetery At Service Sunday

The worship service at the Chestnut Grove Lutheran Church of the York Springs Parish on Sunday at 11 a.m. will be centered around the Order for the Blessing of a Cemetery.

This service comes as a climax to the extensive improvements which have taken place in the cemetery of the church during the last three months with volunteer labor. Young trees, briars and weeds have been removed. Corner and foot stones have been lowered even with the earth. The ground has been cultivated, raked and seeded. A small tract of orchard land has been purchased to fill out the "L" which has been the shape of the cemetery grounds, into a square. This new ground also has been cleared and made into lawn so that there is now available further space for burial in the cemetery.

Contributions of money from lot holders and near relatives of people buried will be sought at this service so that a sizable trust fund can be added to that already in force. The interest of this will be used for the annual upkeep of the cemetery.

The cemetery has always been a free burial ground for the members of the church with authority for the trustees to collect a fee from non-members as well as an annual fee from all lot-holders for the upkeep of the cemetery.

Many of the dwellings of primitive man both in the very ancient past and today are fashioned of sticks plastered with mud.

Mrs. Anna Mary Shue, who is 92, has been confined to her bed since July due to illness. Her condition remains unchanged.

Mummasburg

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fidler and daughters, Lora, Linda and Delores, and son, Raymond, were supper guests Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Moose and family, Hanover.

Mrs. Margaret White, of McKnightstown Station, has been confined to her bed for several weeks due to illness. Her condition is slightly improved.

Meantime, Maureen Connolly and Julie Sampson, the last two Americans in the tourney, reached the finals of the women's doubles.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Warner and son, of Waynesboro, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miller and family.

McGREGOR VS. SEDGMAN

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia's two top tennis players—National champion Ken McGregor and Wimbledon-U. S. titleholder Frank Sedgman—will meet for the New South Wales men's singles crown Saturday.

Meantime, Maureen Connolly and Julie Sampson, the last two Americans in the tourney, reached the finals of the women's doubles.

NUTRITIONAL ILLS OF POULTRY

Several diseases or diseased conditions of poultry result from unbalanced rations. Fall and winter bring maximum dangers from this group of flock ills. Together these two facts stress the importance of every poultry owner being able to recognize by sight the symptoms of these troubles, plus workable knowledge of what and how to feed to prevent nutritional disorders as well as to correct them as soon as they occur. Ten such diseases are here discussed.

Nutritional roup is seen as lameness or a staggering gait in growing poultry or in mature birds, as discharges from the nostrils and eyes accompanied by swollen eyes. It is caused primarily by a shortage of vitamin A in the feed. High-grade cod-liver oil, fresh green vegetation, alfalfa leaf meal, raw carrots, and yellow corn are dependable sources of this essential vitamin.

Polyneuritis results from lack of vitamin B. It occurs chiefly in adult fowls. Loss of appetite, emaciation, weakness, and spasmodic movements of the head and legs are observed. Fresh green feed daily and whole grains will correct the deficiency.

"Gizzard erosion" is a term used to describe several abnormal conditions of the gizzard lining, some similar to stomach ulcers of human beings, although another form consists of decomposition of the organ's lining and the formation of fissures in the inside surface. This condition usually affects chicks. Slightly less than one-half per cent of ox-bile in the mash or the inclusion of alfalfa leaf meal in the ration will usually correct the trouble.

Certain forms of gout, seen as lameness in leg and wing joints, may result from lack of vitamin A in poultry feeds. Adequate sources are recommended above under discussion of nutritional roup.

Rickets, a well known poultry trouble, is commonly caused by a lack of vitamin D. Cod-liver oil, any of the reliable vitamin D supplements, and direct sunshine are advised sources.

Peroxis or slipped tendon usually occurs among growing chicks. It first affects the hock joint and may in advanced stages cause the victim to hop about on the hocks of its deformed legs. A shortage of manganese is a common cause. Special salt mixtures and generally well balanced rations are correctives.

Curled toe is a nutritional weakness described by its characteristic symptom. It results from a lack of riboflavin in the feed of growing chicks. Dried milk, alfalfa leaf meal, high grades of fish meal, and meat scrap carry the correcting elements.

Cannibalism may result from crowding or idleness but is perhaps most frequently caused by a lack of animal matter in the feed. Inclusion of meat scrap or fish meal in the mash will prevent the trouble in most cases and extra salt for two days will usually check an outbreak.

"Crazy chick" results from a shortage of vitamin E. Its occurs mainly during the first month of a chick's life. Wheeling in circles, falling over, and complete prostration are symptoms. Adding wheat germ oil, cottonseed, peanut or soybean oil to the mash soon eliminates the trouble.

Pauly feathering of chicks, sores at the corners of the eyes, and soreness on the bottoms of the feet indicate chick dermatosis. This condition usually follows a deficiency of pantothenic acid in feeds. Yeast, liver, alfalfa leaf meal, milk products, peanut meal, and wheat bran are the principal carriers of this property.

BRIEF NOTES ABOUT ONIONS

Plant onion sets within the next two weeks. Safety suggests that this task be completed as soon as possible because rain may interfere and cause its postponement until spring. Many successful gardeners set aside the last week in October for onion planting.

Among several advantages of fall onion planting, the production of early green onions holds first place. Green onions are an excellent early vegetable, appetizing and healthful. They are, if sets are planted in the fall, the first new crop yielded by the garden. Of course, gardeners who wait until spring to plant sets must likewise wait until early summer for the first tender stalks.

There is always a scarcity of fresh green onions in town and city markets because most dealers handle shipped-in supplies grown in the South. Many of these are wilted and not worth carrying home. Alert local gardeners who offer consumers high quality green onions, large-stalked, cleanly bunched, with tops indicating freshness, may know in advance that they will find a market for their produce. Here is a local marketing opportunity badly and generally neglected. But fall planting is necessary to gain its benefits. Spring planted green onions encounter dozens of other competitive salad crops.

Soils for onions should be mellow, fertile and well drained. The water table must be low to avoid over-winter injuries and to induce deep rooting. In such soils no winter mulch is needed. But there is no substitute for a naturally fertile loam supplemented by turning under deeply a liberal application of well rotted manure or decomposed compost. Hard and shallow soils should be avoided.

Experience demonstrates that it pays to turn under a green manure crop a year in advance of onion growing in all cases where the loam is not liberally balanced with organic matter.

Commercial fertilizers usually prove beneficial. A mixture near a 5-7-10 strength. Of course, this is not a standard mixture but it is here cited to indicate what onions demand in an average or cross-section of garden loams. From 500 to 800 pounds per acre may be used, half of the quantity broadcast and worked into the top soil before planting time, the remainder applied as side dressings in the spring. Perhaps 400 pounds per acre applied before planting and a side dressing or two of nitrate of soda in the spring would be better for onions grown solely to harvest green.

Sets should be spaced 2 to 3 inches apart in rows 14 to 16 inches wide for hand cultivation. Narrow rows aid in reducing breakage of tops from heavy winds. Over-winter mulching is advisable where experience proves that heaving may occur. In this case an airy mulch of straw should be applied in early December after the ground is frozen.

POSSIBILITY OF PEACEFUL USES OF MATERIAL IN H-BOMB IS CITED

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional atomic leaders now indicate that hydrogen bomb materials may be of some peacetime value. A few months ago the general belief was they could be used only for destructive purposes.

This significant reversal was brought out by Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a member of the joint congressional atomic committee, in comments on the recent Eniwetok atomic tests.

Hickenlooper, expressing satisfaction with the tests and saying they "added to our knowledge about the outlook for hydrogen weapons," made this further statement:

"Some Hope In Picture" — "We must remember that the hydrogen picture contains some hope, in time, for peaceful and constructive applications.

"This . . . is something that the joint congressional committee must look into."

Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn.), the late chairman of the atomic committee, shortly before his death said:

See Peacetime Uses — "There is now hope . . . that possibly there may develop, years hence, important peacetime applications of hydrogen principles — and this all amounts, or may amount, to a basic change in the focus of the (atomic) control problem."

Hickenlooper's and McMahon's statements are in marked contrast to one made in a pamphlet prepared by the staff of the joint committee in July, 1950, at McMahon's request.

That pamphlet, designed by McMahon to aid the committee in considering the projected H-bomb in relation to international control of atomic energy, said at one point:

Earlier Opinions — "Uranium-235 and plutonium, key A-bomb materials, have immense potential peacetime value as (atomic) reactor fuels, whereas the constructive uses of deuterium and tritium, except on a laboratory scale appear to be limited or non-existent."

Dr. Louis Ridenour, a prominent atomic scientist, also said in an article in the Scientific American in 1950 that H-bomb fusion reaction "offers no prospect at the present time of any use except in terms of an explosion . . . equivalent to, say, a million tons of TNT."

Many felt this ruled out any use for peaceful purposes.

SEES DISPUTE SHAPING UP ON "DE-CONTROL"

NEW YORK (AP)—The Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today a battle is shaping up between business people and government planners over how to end controls.

Business people generally feel controls should be allowed to die a natural death next June 30 or be ended quickly by positive action, the publication said.

But it reported government planners "have developed a new line of thinking to present to the new administration."

Washington reports indicate, the Iron Age said, that "they will argue that complete decontrol of materials is dangerous while there is a threat to world peace," and also will propose that industry and government unite to preserve the "re-requirements" of the controlled materials plan.

"The planners believe the U. S.

Census Bureau could be enlarged to accommodate the reporting project," the trade weekly said. Sample questionnaires already are being prepared to be sent to manufacturers before the end of the year. Presumably they would be asked to report sizes, shapes and types of metals used, as well as amounts.

The Iron Age commented: "Metalworking companies are not generally unwilling to furnish data on production and consumption of materials. A great many of them already do this through their trade associations. They do not fear collection of useful statistics, but they do fear that bureaucrats will use them in an effort to vault to a place in the sun."

Working On Steps — Specific steps for orderly decontrol are being worked out by a task force of representatives of five steel producing and six steel consuming companies, the publication reported, adding:

"All but military uses are expected to be decontrolled early next year along the lines of a program advanced by steel companies last spring before the 'strike.'"

AUTO HITS CULVERT
Galen E. Sprecher, 34, of Gettysburg R. 3, suffered a laceration of the nose at 12:25 a.m. Wednesday when his automobile ran off the highway on the Biglerville Rd. near Biglerville and struck a culvert, state police of the Gettysburg station reported. There was a heavy fog at the time of the accident police said. Damage to Sprecher's car was estimated at $350.

SMITH MAY BE HOUSE SPEAKER

C. Smith, veteran Philadelphia lawmaker, held the inside track today in the race for speaker of the House in 1953.

the go-ahead signal for Smith's election. He would succeed Herbert P. Sarg (R-Elk) who did not seek re-election to the House.

Expect Endorsements Smith, who served as Republican floor leader in the controversial 1951 session, is expected to be endorsed by a majority of the 110-member House GOP bloc at a caucus here next Monday.

That endorsement is tantamount to election since the Republicans have more than enough votes to control both House and Senate when the Legislature reorganizes in January.

publican whip in 1951, is considered the leading candidate for floor leader to succeed Smith.

ROLLBACK PLAN ON MEAT PRICES TO GET STUDY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's proposed meat price rollback was booked for searching Congressional study Wednesday.

The Senate-House Defense Production Committee headed by Sen. Maybank (D-SC) called Price Stabilizer Tighe E. Woods to report on the price control program. Members said he also would get a thorough quizzing about the meat rollback plan.

Woods has ordered his staff to have either (1) an order ready for his signature next Monday cutting retail meat prices, or (2) an explanation of why it can't be done.

Woods' move came as Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Republican congressional leaders conferring in New York with President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower sought from the next president a statement of the incoming administration's views on whether the whole wage, price and rent control program should be scrapped.

Important Topic
Taft told a news conference here on Tuesday that the controversial controls program was one of the most important subjects slated for discussion at today's meeting in New York.

Authority to continue those controls is scheduled to expire next April 30.

The defense production committee, a watchdog group set up by Congress, has called for detailed recommendations from Woods concerning the future of price controls.

White Drummer And Negro Singer Wed

LONDON (AP)—Louis Bellson Jr. fished a ring out of his raincoat pocket Wednesday and married Pearl Bailey, an "Oh so happy" singer of the blues.

Bellson, 29, is a white drummer in Duke Ellington's band. Miss Bailey, 34, is Negro.

They were married in Caxton Hall, the registry office.

Miss Bailey, dressed in a blue suit over which she wore a long pink coat, seemed beside herself with joy. She admitted to being a little nervous but "Oh, so happy."

Bellson wore a gabardine raincoat which was open. Around his neck was a red scarf. It was a ring ceremony, and when Caxton Hall's chief registrar James Holiday, asked Bellson for it he took it from a pocket.

"Put it on," said Holiday.

Louis did and Holiday remarked, "You are married now."

Whereupon Louis gave Pearl a resounding kiss.

DELAY BIDS

The opening, originally scheduled for Wednesday, was set back to next Wednesday in order to permit prospective bidders more time to prepare their proposals.

EX-LEADER OF CZECH REDS TO STAND TRIAL FOR TREASON

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The former secretary general of the Czechoslovak Communist party, tough, Moscow-trained Rudolf Slansky, was listed for trial in Prague today with other purged leaders of the Red Czech regime—a mass hearing some diplomats expect will rival the 1936 Moscow trials.

Announcement of the hearing was made earlier today by Prague radio. The broadcast said that Slansky would be tried together with "his group," but it gave no indication of how many defendants would face the court or who the others might be.

Accused As Traitors
The radio also made no mention of the charges but Slansky and others purged with him have been publicly accused of high treason.

The radio said it would broadcast daily reports of the court proceedings. There have been no Western news correspondents in Czechoslovakia since the conviction last year of Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis on "spy" charges—a trial denounced throughout the non-Communist world.

Red-haired Slansky, one of the architects of the Red Czech regime, was arrested in Nov., 1951, along with scores of other top government and party officials in a full-scale purge of Communist ranks.

At that time, Czech President Klement Gottwald accused him of "anti-state activities" and linked both him and former Foreign Minister Vlado Clementis together as "Titoist" traitors to Moscow.

In Jail Two Years
Clementis, also an old-time Communist, has been in jail awaiting trial for almost two years on charges of masterminding a plot to overthrow the Red regime and turn the country over to "Western imperialists."

Earlier this year, Stefan Rais, Czech minister of justice, said that Slansky and Clementis would be tried along with Otto Sling, one-time political secretary of the Communist party in the city of Brno, and other purged figures on charges of plotting to murder President Gottwald.

Vienna reports last March said that Slansky and a score of other purged Czech Communists had been taken to Moscow and there forced to "confess" to alleged crimes in preparation for a mass trial.

FOREIGN AID SEEN AS FIRST DEBATE TOPIC

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign affairs experts predicted today the new Republican-controlled Congress will trim U. S. spending abroad, with emphasis on military and economic aid shifting from Europe to Asia.

Foreign aid likely will kick off the first big debate in the 83rd Congress convening Jan. 3. Extension of the Mutual Assistance Program is one of the first things on its agenda.

With Republican leaders just about agreed on a top budget figure of 70 billion dollars in fiscal 1953-54, the foreign spending program faces possibly hefty reductions for the year beginning July

1. The authorization for this year, ending next June, is $6,447,730,750.

Call For Review
Any controversy is certain to center around American outlay of $33,104,867,055 during the postwar years since 1945 and gross foreign spending of some 87 billion dollars since 1940.

Much of the money authorized and appropriated is as yet unspent. As of last June, the mutual security program showed a five-billion-dollar balance earmarked for guns, tanks, aircraft and the like. Funds not obligated and carried over amounted to about 400 millions.

Rep. Lawrence Smith of Wisconsin, fourth-ranking Republican member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said the whole foreign aid program must be reviewed and reduced. He told a reporter:

Lists Some Problems
"I don't think the country will stand for any more all-out spending. We owe it to the country to sit down in bipartisan fashion and take a good look at the new problems which have arisen."

Among such problems, Smith said, are European failure to meet rearming goals of the North Atlantic Treaty program, France's financial troubles and the free world's improved economic status.

Smith said President-elect Eisenhower has heretofore been concerned chiefly with Western Europe, adding:

"I'm hoping when Ike goes to Korea he gets a picture of this Asiatic situation."

PARIS (AP)—Spain was admitted into the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization Wednesday by a vote of 44 of the 65 members.

France lined up with the United States and Britain in favoring admission of Spain—a move generally regarded as paving the way for bringing Spain into full U. N. membership.

The Human MACHINE

To function properly, a machine needs constant attention. It needs the right amount and kind of lubrication. It needs to be kept clean and in good repair. Above all, it needs the supervision of someone trained to know how it works, and what to do if it doesn't. The human body is more sensitive, more complex than any man-made machine. There is much you yourself can do to keep it running smoothly. But when the machinery begins to slow down, or show signs of wear, it needs the attention of a trained Engineer. Call your doctor. He's the man who knows how the wheels go around.

Saber Jet Sets New World Speed Record Of 699.9 Mph.

THERMAL, Calif. (AP)—A roaring, flame-spewing P86d Saber jet plane piloted by Capt. J. Slade Nash of Edwards Air Force Base has established a new unofficial world speed record—699.9 miles per hour.

Capt. Nash, 31, whose home is in Moline, Ill., made four low-level passes yesterday over a measured three-kilometer course at the edge of the Salton Sea, 235 feet below sea level. His performance was made under rules of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale and the National Aeronautics Association, which must verify it before it becomes official.

In shattering the record for operational aircraft in the North American all-weather interceptor, Capt. Nash topped the 670.981 miles per hour mark set last Sept. 15 by Maj. Richard L. Johnson at Edwards AFB. Johnson used an earlier Sabre model, the F86a.

At his top speed Capt. Nash's plane nosed toward the dangerous compressibility of the sonic wall.

The speed of sound in the 75-degree temperature of the lake shore was about 775 miles per hour at the time of the test runs in the Imperial Valley.

The rules under which the flight was made specified that the plane must not fly higher than 1,640 feet. Actually, Capt. Nash made the four passes at not more than 100 feet off the sun-swept earth of the eastern shore of the inland sea. He was monitored by four T28 training planes and timed with high speed movie cameras and a special chronograph system.

Soldier At Gap Is Killed By Grenade

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP)—A soldier here for basic training was killed and another injured in the accidental explosion of a hand grenade Tuesday.

Pvt. Joseph E. Campbell, 21, of Malden, Mass., was dead on arrival at the Military Reservation Hospital.

Army authorities said Campbell, in service since Sept. 10, was attempting to throw a grenade on the special range and was reported to have pulled the pin on the grenade when it exploded in his hand.

It was the first fatal live-training accident at Indiantown Gap since its reactivation in March of last year.

Injured was Pvt. Dexter Breese, 17, of Laconic R. I. N. H., who was with Campbell on the range when the accident occurred.

Catholic War Vets Oppose Hiss Release

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Allegheny County Chapter of the Catholic War Veterans sent a resolution to the United States Board of Parole today opposing Alger Hiss' release from Lewisburg Penitentiary.

The resolution branded Hiss, former State Department official convicted of perjury, an "enemy of the United States" and said his release would "be a great danger to the security of the United States."

Hiss was given a five year sentence by a Federal Court.

Police Are Seeking Three Finger Luchese

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal officials searched today for Thomas (Three-finger Brown) Luchese, prime target in a state crime probe.

U. S. Atty. Frank J. Parker on Tuesday filed a petition in Brooklyn Federal Court asking that Sicilian-born Luchese be stripped of his citizenship, a preliminary move to deportation action.

A U. S. marshal and two deputies later sought Luchese to serve him with the papers but he was nowhere to be found.

The government brought its denaturalization action against Luchese on the grounds he had obtained his American citizenship nine years ago in Newark, N. J., by illegal means.

IKE TO MEET EDEN, DULLES IN N. Y. TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower plunged deeper today into his study of America's foreign problems, fixing appointments with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and John Foster Dulles, architect of the treaty with Japan.

Dulles is frequently mentioned as a possibility for secretary of State in Eisenhower's cabinet.

Between them, the two appointments will take up most of the general's second day of conferences in New York. Each is scheduled to last nearly two hours. Eisenhower discussed foreign problems at length yesterday, getting two reports on Korea.

Firm On Prisoner Plan

He was quoted by Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, member of the United States delegation to the United Nations, as standing firmly behind the delegation's position on the pivotal question of compulsory return of war prisoners in Korea. The senator said:

"He is completely dedicated to the principles of the U. N. and re-emphasized his agreement with the principle of no forcible repatriation of Communist prisoners."

Communist negotiators in Korea have insisted that all prisoners—regardless of their personal desires—must be returned either to China or North Korea. The truce talks at Panmunjom stalled, finally, over this point.

Unusually Important

Today's meeting with Eden is considered unusually important. The day Eisenhower's election was confirmed, the British diplomat said he hoped to meet with him at an early date. He flew here from London two weeks ago for the U. N. meeting.

Their conversation could touch on both Europe and the Far East. Some European leaders have expressed anxiety over reports the United States may expand the war in the Orient, bombing Chinese territory, and possibly sanctioning a Chinese Nationalist assault on the mainland of Red China.

Market Likely Topic

With regard to Western Europe, some American sentiment holds that direct financial aid should be discontinued. Proponents of this belief argue that military aid alone—and assisting European allies with a broadened trade basis—would be more effective and less costly.

The probability of opening more American markets to British trade would be a matter of major interest for Eden.

There has been speculation, as well, that foreign secretary would sound out Eisenhower on a meeting with Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Dulles First Today

Dulles' interview precedes Eden's today.

The New Yorker has served for years as an adviser on foreign policy. He bore the brunt of the work of formulating the treaty with Japan, negotiating with other nations on disputed points, and finally getting it signed.

Dulles is reported to have support both from Taft and from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York for the post of secretary of state.

TAFT URGING INDUSTRIALIST IN DEFENSE POST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio today was reported to be urging President-elect Eisenhower to appoint an industrialist as secretary of defense.

The Ohio senator was said to have submitted the names of three businessmen for the post, without indicating any preference among them. They are:

Edward L. Ryerson, 65, of Chicago, director of the Inland Steel Corp., and chairman of the board of Joseph T. Ryerson and Son. Ryerson is a Yale man, as is Taft.

B. E. Hutchinson, 64, of Detroit, vice president of the Chrysler Corp., and chairman of its finance committee.

Charles McElroy White, 61, of Cleveland, president of the Republic Steel Corp.

There have been some reports that Eisenhower might pick Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, who has been serving as his liaison man with government departments.

There were stronger indications, however, that the President-elect might ask Lodge to become a sort of assistant president and trouble shooter for him, with the rank of ambassador-at-large.

Wants Reorganization

Taft was said to be contending strongly that an experienced industrialist ought to take over the Defense Department and reorganize it from the bottom up. Eisenhower indicated during the campaign he favors some such shakeup.

While the cabinet speculation went on, there were increased signs that Taft is leaning toward a move to seek the majority leadership in the new Republican-

M'Carthy Expects Senate Chairmanship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today he assumed he will become chairman of the Senate investigating group in the new Congress and when he does, he will push Communist-in-government probes.

McCarthy also told reporters he is convinced President-elect Eisenhower will give the incoming Republican-controlled Congress "anything that is necessary to clean house" in the government.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Charles B. Foelsch, president of the Pacific Lutheran Seminary at Berkeley, Calif., yesterday was elects president of the Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America. He succeeds the Rev. Dr. William C. Schaeffer Jr. of Allentown, Pa.

DR. JAMES EARP
PTA GATHERING

Dr. James P. Earp, professor of sociology at Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md., was the guest speaker at the November meeting of the Parent Teacher's Association of the Littlestown Joint School System, held on Tuesday evening at the high school. Dr. Earp was introduced to the group by Monroe Morelock, chairman of the November program committee. The speaker addressed the group on the subject "American Education."

"Although the educational field has greatly advanced in this country during the past 25 years, the basic foundation is laid within the home and with the overflow of students the teachers are unable to give each child the attention he needs," Dr. Earp said.

Dr. Earp is past president of the Westminster Rotary Club and is now president of the Community Service Committee. He received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Pennsylvania; master of arts degree from Columbia University and the degree of doctor of philosophy from Northwestern University.

The brief business session was in charge of the president, John D. Basehoar. The secretary, Mrs. R. H. Harbaugh presented her report. Seven new members were received on Tuesday, bringing the total membership to 259. Grade one, Mrs. Anna K. Leister, teacher, received the award for having the best per-

A demonstration entitled "Menu Magic" on capsule cooking was presented for the members of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity and their guests, by the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Gettysburg, on Wednesday evening in St. Aloysius Parish Hall. Miss Joan Overholt, home economics adviser of the company, prepared and explained the meal. The foods prepared were later awarded as follows: Oven-made fried chicken and broccoli, Mrs. Warren Wisotzkey; broiled haddock platter, Mrs. Stanley Horner; two-part nut loaf cake, Mrs. Donald Sheely and Mrs. Harold Sparver; orange endive salad, Mrs. Leonard L. Potter. The equipment used was loaned by Ecker's Appliance Store. A Bendix clothes dryer was loaned by Stanley B. Stover.

Xmas Party December 17

A table lamp from Ecker's was awarded to Mrs. Joseph P. Long. A double waffle maker was given by Stover's and was received by Mrs. Carrie Strine. Mr. Ecker also gave a cap and apron set, received by Mrs. Monroe J. Staveland and five Magic Chef cook books, which were received by Mrs. Mary Baughman, Mrs. Charles E. Bupp, Mrs. LeRoy W. Bish, Miss Dorothy Krumline and Mrs. Melvin B. Wehler.

The meeting on Wednesday evening opened with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," led by Miss Betty Reindollar, followed by the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. Marvin P. Breighner, president of the club, announced that the annual Christmas party and meeting will be held Wednesday, Dec. 17, at the POS of A hall. Each member is requested to bring a 50-cent gift for exchange.

The December program committee is composed by Mrs. Chester S. Byers, chairman; Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner, Mrs. John H. Fleming, Mrs. George P. Smith, Mrs. Roy D. Renner, Mrs. J. Ray Reindollar, Mrs. Stanley Horner and Miss Malva Dutterer. The hostess committee comprises Mrs. Edward H. Leister, chairman, Mrs. James W. Fager, Mrs. Paul Luckenbaugh, Mrs. George W. IKE HAS TOUGH TASK PICKING HIS CABINET

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The guessing game, begun before the election returns had a chance to cool, will continue until Dwight D. Eisenhower announces his choice.

Who will be in the new cabinet? Already the rumors have piled up enough names to fill the cabinet, with enough left over for a couple of alternate teams.

Among those mentioned: John Foster Dulles, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, Harold Stassen, John J. McCloy, Patrick J. Hurley, Paul Hoffman, Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, Gov. Arthur Langlie of Washington, Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, Gov. Earl Warren of California and Arthur Summerfield, the Republican national chairman.

Consider Many Things

In picking his cabinet, a president may consider such things as: Does it satisfy all factions of the party? How about those who originally backed Sen. Robert A. Taft? Taft talked with Eisenhower yesterday, and later said he had made two or three recommendations.

How does it stack up geographically? Are all sections represented? Should a Southerner get a cabinet post? Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, for instance, has been mentioned as a cabinet possibility.

Have I paid off my political debts, rewarding those who ran political risks by supporting me? It could be argued that Lodge might have been able to keep his Senate seat had he been working for himself when he was working for Eisenhower.

"Is He Capable?"

Is each man capable of organizing and handling his department effectively? In short, does he have executive talent?

Every president-elect has faced the same problem, but Eisenhower's may be the toughest of

Retired Plantation Owner's Money Didn't Outlast Flings

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A million dollars in the bank—and time and the inclination to spend it.

That was the happy prospect that confronted Thomas Linton McCullough when he retired at 75.

So McCullough, a large cotton plantation owner, set out on one last glorious fling. Not a thing in the world to worry about. Life on a lavish scale with all the money he wanted or needed (so he thought) for the last gleaming whirl.

When he reached 80, he went off for another "last fling," this time by plane to Mexico and South America. It lasted three long years.

One Fling

When he got back to the United States, there was still time on his hands and money stacked in the bank for another "last fling." And another. And still another. Each time McCullough expected death to tap him on the shoulder, but each time when he tickled death along its bony rib, as the phrase goes, death stepped aside and left time for yet another last fling. And another one after that.

Then one day came the startling realization for McCullough that he had time but no money left.

Sixteen months ago the last trickle of the million dollar fortune had slipped away, and McCullough faced life anew—on a $50 a month old age pension.

No Money, No Regrets

No money, but no regrets, either. "My one mistake was that I outlived my money," McCullough said not so long ago, "but it's an error I'm going to go on making just as long as I can."

At long last, of course, death had its day.

When McCullough died Monday he was 97. To the very end he said he had no regrets about the way he had spent his fortune.

The going was great while it lasted.

Buy Special Shoes

Mrs. Clara Bushey, state nurse, reported to the society a number of cases where financial assistance is needed by children under care of the society. The group voted to pay a $19 balance left after a mother made a $4 payment on a pair of surgical shoes and a night shoe for her crippled son. Payment of $9 for a pair of special shoes for a handicapped boy and $33 for an unusual pair of cork-soled shoes for a crippled youth were approved by the society.

There were brief reports on the annual convention of the state society in Allentown and of the summer camp program in which two handicapped boys from this county attended state camps with the county society paying the bills.

January 14 was set as the date for the next meeting of the board.

ORANGE BOWL RESUMES HUNT FOR 2 TEAMS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—With Oklahoma virtually out of the picture, the Orange Bowl schedule committee meets today to resume its search for two teams to play in its New Year's Day football game.

The committee practically abandoned hope of getting Oklahoma when Dr. Oscar White, chairman of the Oklahoma regents, said he did not think Oklahoma should risk conference censure or go so far as to bolt the circuit to accept an Orange Bowl bid.

Chairman R. D. Freeman of the Orange Bowl group planned to call his committee into meeting to discuss the situation. Some members reportedly favored inviting Maryland, which was penalized by the Southern Conference for playing in last year's Sugar Bowl.

Watch Alabama

"We're going to try and stay in the big leagues," said Van C. Kussrow, a committee member who had been in touch with Oklahoma.

The committee plans to have a representative at the Alabama-Maryland game, and if Alabama makes a creditable showing, the Crimson Tide might get the bid, with Pittsburgh a possible foe.

Other teams being discussed include Syracuse, Tulsa, Houston and Florida.

Barring unforeseen developments the committee is expected to stick to its original plan of waiting until after Saturday's games to invite two teams to come to Miami, play before a sellout crowd of 66,000 and pick up $110,000 each.

WILLIE PEP IS WINNER AGAIN

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A confident, crafty Willie Pep, his latest "Comeback" opponent listed as a victim, says he'll fight anyone, anytime to gain another crack at winning back his featherweight crown from Sandy Saddler.

The bobbing veteran put on his usual show last night to win an unanimous 10-round decision from Fabella Chavez, a youngster from Hollywood, Calif. Both weighed 129 pounds.

It was just a matter of Pep's craftiness—with some nice help from a jabbing left and a head-snapping right—that gave the Hartford, Conn., ex-champ the clear cut victory. Judges Howard Hess and Fred Connell, and Referee Ray Palmad saw the fight the same way. Each gave it to the 30-year-old Pep, 58-42.

But while Pep considered the fight a success against "a tough kid," the promoters were less enthused with the outcome at the gate. A crowd of 2,491, just a drop in the 15,000-seat Arena bucket, paid a bare $5,593.50 to see the nationally and locally televised bout in person.

DECISION TODAY ON BOWIE TRACK

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—A cold drizzle pelted down on Bowie's rebuilt race track today as the state racing commission met once again to decide if the strip was safe for horses and jockeys.

Most anxious of all was Larry MacPhail, the veteran sportsman who dumped two million dollars in to Bowie this year to make what he thought would be one of the best ovals in the East.

Dream Tumbled

The Old Redhead saw his dreams for gigantic opening crumble Monday when jockeys refused to ride over the sodden track after the second race. They said the strip had soft patches in it—that it was unsafe for man or speedy beast.

After the track had been overhauled, it remained parch-dry through October and November—until just before opening day. Apparently it hadn't settled.

MacPhail contends the track is ready now.

If the commission decides the track is okay, the delayed meeting will begin again tomorrow. If the commission says no, the meeting will be run at Pimlico in Baltimore, which wound up its final program last week.

Tried To Derail Two Trains; Get Probation

BERWICK, Pa. (AP)—Three youths who authorities said confessed to two attempts to derail Delaware, Lackawanna and Western freight trains here last month have been placed on one year probation by a Columbia County court.

Railroad Agent D. W. Reese said the boys cut bond wires which connect the railroad's signal system—but that "stop" signals then went into operation automatically, preventing any wrecks. He said the trio also put boulders on the track "just to see what would happen."

HANK SAUER IS VOTED "MVP" IN NATIONAL LOOP

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Sauer, the rags to riches outfielder of the Chicago Cubs, today was named the Most Valuable Player in the National League for the 1952 season by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The selection of the 23-year-old Chicago slugger came as a surprise to many as Sauer slumped badly during the last month of the season following a brilliant start.

Sauer won his circuit's highest honor by a narrow margin over Robin Roberts, the graceful right-hander of the Philadelphia Phillies and Joe Black, the rookie relief expert of the pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers.

Roberts Second

The Chicago star, whose climb to major league stardom was a tortuous path, collected 226 points out of a possible 336. Roberts, who won more games than any other pitcher, 28, finished second with 211 points. Black, who made Brooklyn's entry into the World Series possible, was third with 208.

Sauer, a 6-foot-4, 200-pound bruiser, ran into a terrible slump in September. He hit only three homers, drove in seven runs and collected 16 hits in 75 times at bat.

Despite this poor showing the Cub cleanup hitter wound up tied for league home run honors with Pittsburgh's perennial champion, Ralph Kiner, at 37 each. He also led the loop in runs batted in with 121, the highest of his major league career, and batted .270.

Others In Top Ten

Three writers from each major league city participated in the balloting. Points were awarded on 14 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third and so on down the line.

Only other players to poll 100 or more votes were Hoyt Wilhelm, the rookie relief specialist of the New York Giants, and Stan Musial, the six-time batting champion of the St. Louis Cardinals. Wilhelm placed fourth with 133 points and the $85,000-a-year Musial fifth, with 127.

Rounding out the top 10 were: Enos Slaughter, St. Louis, 92 points; Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, 31 points; Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider, Brooklyn, 29 points each; and Roy Campanella, Brooklyn, and Red Schoendienst, St. Louis, 25 points each.

as coal, oil, and minerals.

Cities Changes In Nation

"Our growth is tremendous. There are nearly 4,000,000 new people each year. There are in good shape. There are more jobs, more people working than ever before, they say. That's true, but there are an awful lot more people. And there will be an awful lot more people in a few years and we better have jobs so they can work, or the ferment will be unimaginable.

"We seldom spot trends because they come about so gradually. But we are in a continual state of change. In 1790, just two long life spans ago, when the nation took its first census, it found that it had 4,000,000 people of whom 95 per cent were farmers. Today we have 153,000,000 people of whom only 15 per cent are farmers. The coming of the Germans into Pennsylvania was partially responsible for the change. A trend was started which few people realized at the time. But the frugal farmers settling on rich Pennsylvania soil raised enough food that there was enough for them, and much left over for someone else. The genius who invented the Conestoga wagon also helped. We think of the Conestoga as helping to settle the west. It had a more important role here in Pennsylvania. Before its arrival farmers had to unload their products from their wagons at each deep stream and send it across on rafts and re-load on the other side. The Conestoga was a boat on wheels, actually. It was water-tight and when it came to a stream, fully loaded, it just floated across. There was no unloading and re-loading, things got to the market faster.

The Bankers' Job

"And that made possible the industrial revolution. You can invent all the gadgets you want, but you can't industrialize a nation until there is food for industrial workers. The first requirement for industrialization is farmers who can produce enough food for themselves and the industrial worker as well.

"For years the trend among farm youth has been to the city. The rural areas spend billions training, educating, feeding, and clothing their children, and then present them to the cities.

"The last census shows the trend continuing. Nearly all rural areas declined in population proportionately to the total gain registered in the U. S. You in Adams County are fortunate. Your gain of 12 per cent was almost equal to the national gain of 13 per cent in population—you are holding your own here.

"To hold the young people in the rural community there must be opportunities for jobs, for new businesses. You bankers can do the job of seeing that those opportunities are there."
